My Primary Tribal Wound Pattern

This is the underlying beliefs pattern that is creating the problems your tribe is battling against. Ultimately, these are the beliefs that you need to help people in your tribe transform in order to have the greatest impact them.

This is how the unconscious wound-driven beliefs show up in the lives and/or businesses of your tribe that is causing them pain and difficulties.

My Unique Serving Position

In your wounding process you developed a set of unique skills to help you minimize your painful feelings and receive more of the emotions you craved. This built a skill set within you that is specialized for your divine right tribe.
